★ Additional charges may be added once size is determined

* As a general rule, the natural waist measurement should be taken at the smallest part of the mid-section. If the measurement is taken too low it will give a larger measurement & then the dress will not fit properly.

Because dresses are manufactured, not custom made to specific measurements, often length and/or other adjustments are necessary. Alterations are available at an additional charge with the service & savings pkg. & a special appointment is needed. Charges will be determined by alterations needed. Alterations are not included in the price of the dress.
